

24 : HOURS OF : PEACE

AUDREY

87

Background

Audrey Layton is an 87-year-old great-grandmother and ex-Primary School headmistress who spent time in prison during the 1980's after protesting against nuclear missiles at Greenham Common Airbase.

Suggestions for discussion

Audrey says it's not enough to just remember the past, you have to think about the future.

What do you think she means ?

The podcast asks you what you think a peacemaker looks like – well, what's your answer ?

Can you think of other examples of women working for peace ? (if not – why not ?!?).

What do you know about Greenham Common and the protests there – and how could you find out more ?

Audrey says she was " roused" to join the protest there – what role do you think anger and "being difficult" can play in the work of peace ?
